Versatile Power Wave Sail

The Naish Force is Robby's personal ride, and sets the standard for power wavesails. Designed with moderate aspect ratio and a powerful shape defined by twin scrim luff panels that delivers even pressure to both hands. The Force works equally well in both offshore and onshore conditions and is the ideal choice for power junkies and heavier riders. For 2010, the Force features our new Ultralight construction and stepped leech outline, making the best and most durable power wave sail on the planet also the lightest.
