

SESSION

Classic Wave Sail

The Naish Session is a purist wave sail that combines a soft feel with plenty of available power for non-stop surfing performance. A draft forward shape defined by a single dacron luff panel and moderate aspect ratio delivers balanced front hand pressure that goes neutral during maneuvers and smoothly releases in the gusts. The result is both the best down the line sail on the market AND the ideal all-around wavesail for smaller and/or lighter riders. For 2010, the Session features new construction and our stepped leech outline, making it the lightest sail in it's class.
